Re: Response to FEC Notice Concerning Amended 12 Day Pre-General Report Filed 12/6/04

Dear Ms. Liljeroot:

This letter is written in response to the FEC's correspondence of December 21, 2004, which generally addresses the same small math or computing anomalies discussed in the FEC's November 4th letter and in Doggett For Congress' (the "Committee") December 6th response.

As discussed in that response and our January 13th conference call, the referenced anomalies represent a de minimis percentage of the funds raised and spent by the Committee in the 2002-2004 cycle. Our Committee has worked diligently to establish a ten year record of accurate reporting. In keeping with this record, we reviewed our records and every FEC filing we made during the last election cycle. That review and the subsequent minor adjustments we have made and reported to the FEC reflect our ongoing commitment to provide the most accurate information possible and to be responsive to the FEC.

The Amended 2004 12 Day Pre-General Report filed on December 6th and the reports we have filed since that date represent the most accurate figures the committee can provide. To the extent the FEC's calculations continue to reflect small differences from our totals, we can only conclude that there may be software or arithmetic errors that we have not been able to identify. I believe that we have correctly identified our contributors and expenditures, so any small discrepancy is one of aggregate numbers rather than accurate disclosure.

As we move forward, Doggett for Congress will work to continue to provide the most accurate information possible. At this point, though, I believe we have complied as fully as possible with the FEC's requests.

Sincerely,

James E. Cousar
Treasurer, Doggett for Congress
